Everyone knows that historic Health Reform legislation has passed. What is less clear, however, is what it really means for aging services providers and their leadership. The ponderous document is difficult to read, and leaves many important issues unaddressed or vague. This webinar will extract the strategic implications and probable implications of the law and related trends, and outline strategies and tips for leadership to prepare their aging service organizations for the coming changes.

This program is presented by the partners of ORBoardworks, James L. Reinertsen, MD and James E. Orlikoff, recognized experts in health care governance and leadership.
