Happy Holidays!

Park Shore Picture Gallery

As Seattle's only lakeside CCRC, Park Shore is located in the picturesque neighborhood of Madison Park on the shore of Lake Washington. Built in 1963 at 17 stories high, part of Park Shore's uniqueness is protected by the advent of the Shoreline Management Act of 1971—no more high-rises on the shores of beautiful Lake Washington. Uniqueness in location also preserves a myriad of views, whether from the 360 degree promenade deck atop Park Shore, the beautiful solarium or from the Lakeside Dining Room. As the photos show from sunrise to sunset, the views are ever-changing and quite spectacular. —Stan Saltzberg

Aging Services Committee Spotlight: Health Care

A message from the committee chair, Doug Bault

What I enjoy most about the Health Care committee is that we have a collection of passionate and extremely competent individuals. They can immediately articulate the fiscal and operational impact to their organization while maintaining a collective sense of association protection and advocacy. Many times it is recognized that although a particular message or proposed direction does not necessarily positively impact their represented organization, they maintain the view of the larger picture and the common good of the whole association membership. I am proud of this committee and appreciate its work on behalf of all members.
